

BEAUTIFUL

Self-Respect

Beautiful was formulated to uplift the mood and encourage self-confidence and self-respect. This combination of oils beautifully unfolds the heart space, reopening it to love and self-acceptance.

Too often inherent value is gauged from outward responses instead of inner knowing. The oils in Beautiful lead individuals to recognize the beauty of the gifts within them and to embrace their worth with grace and gratitude. It can be easier to find personal faults than to find inner strengths, talents, and capabilities. This blend helps individuals acknowledge all that is good within and to radiate their divine light to a world in need.

Beautiful can also provide clarity about the things that captivate individuals. It encourages an honest assessment of where an individual places value and what influences they allow into their lives. It gently lifts the eyes to meet the truth about present circumstances. It helps them develop their innate sense of what is good and trustworthy, and when priorities are out of alignment, gives them the strength to let go of relationships, beliefs, and behaviors that aren't serving their highest good.

Beautiful is a soothing heart tonic for those whose beauty has been used as an instrument against them. If an individual has been taken advantage of, abused, or misused, this blend wraps them in layer upon layer of love and sanctuary. It reminds them that they are worthy and fully loved; they are safe to be seen and their beauty has never been, and can never be, diminished by outside forces. It promises that when sorrows have been grieved, love will return as healer.

